SYLLABUS FOR THE BATCH FROM THE YEAR 2020 TO YEAR 2022

M.A. GEOGRAPHY (SEMESTER - IV)

Paper II: Field Based Project Report (Practical only)

Max. Marks: 80

Distribution of Marks:

Field Report: 60
Viva on Field Report: 20

Objectives:

1. The paper is designed to acquaint the student with the importance of field work as one of the methodologies in Geography.
2. The students are to be sensitized about pre-field work preparations, conduct of the field work, post-field work based and the writing of a field work report.

(Since this paper is of practical nature only, therefore contents of syllabus need not to be organized into SECTION s).

Field Based Project Report in Geography:

The project report will involvestatement of objectives and scope of field investigation; methods of field work for studies of different scales (macro, meso, and micro); preparation of a questionnaire; sampling techniques, collection, processing, representation, analysis and interpretation of data/information. The candidates are required to write a project report on small assigned problem involving field investigations.

- Note :
1. The candidates are required to submit their project reports one week before the commencement of examination to the concerned Head of the Postgraduate Department.
 2. Assessment of practical record and viva voce on it will be done by a Board of Examiners, consisting of external examiner, internal examiner and the chairperson of the department.
 3. Improvement/repeat cases must prepare either an improved form of their earlier practical record or prepare a new one. They must get it approved and signed by the faculty member teaching the course at their parent department.
 4. Nearly Uniform Distribution of students amongst all the faculty members of the department.

Books Recommended:

1. Archer, J.E. and Dalton, T.H., Field Work in Geography, E.T. Bastaford Ltd., London, 1968.
2. Jones, P.A., Field Work in Geography, Longman, London, 1968.
3. Elhance, D.N., Fundamentals of Statistics, KitabMehal, Allahabad, 1972.
4. Gregory, S., Statistical Methods and the Geographers, Longman, London, 1963.

Pedagogy:

The field-work exercises should aim at identification of locational attributes of selected elements and their areal associations. The students are to be trained through taking up exercises requiring field visits and generation of primary data, its processing and statistical and cartographic representation.
